

Villa Mitra, Private Residential Community

La Chorrera, Republic of Panama

Villa Mitra is an environmentally friendly community dedicated to minimizing ecological disruption and maintaining harmony with the surrounding natural beauty.

Villa Mitra is a 56-hectare private housing community consisting of 83 lots located south of La Chorrera town, about half an hour from Panama City. The property site is surrounded by sloping hills, open fields, and stunning ocean views of the gulf of Panama.

McKinney Internacional provided full-service planning, design and construction management for this housing subdivision. Because of the environmental sensitivity of the project, McKinney engineered solution-oriented design such as road layout that minimizes site disturbance, well system and treatment plant to provide potable water, a subterranean power supply delivery system, and incorporation of an existing lake into a valuable property feature.
